

AUDAIN ART MUSEUM

Whistler, British Columbia
Guard

Become an integral part of the Audain Art Museum, a 56,000 square foot institution in Whistler. Located in the Coast Mountains of British Columbia just two hours north of Vancouver, the Museum, designed by the award-winning architectural firm Patkau Architects, is a must-see experience in Whistler, Canada's favorite year-round destination.

The Museum's Permanent Collection showcases the art of British Columbia from the late 18th century to present. Anchoring the collection is James Hart's The Dance Screen (The Scream Too), the most significant contemporary carved cedar Dance Screen in the world. Other highlights include an important collection of 19th and 20th century First Nations masks and works by some of Canada's most celebrated artists including Emily Carr, EJ Hughes and the internationally renowned photo-conceptualists Jeff Wall and Stan Douglas. In addition to the permanent collection the Museum has visiting exhibitions of art from Canada and around the world.
